

Failure to return tamper-proof licence discs

You are obliged to return your tamper-proof licence discs whenever you apply to renew, exchange or change the vehicle on your licence. If you do not return the tamper-proof discs, you will be required to submit documentary evidence that the tamper-proof discs in question have been satisfactorily destroyed e.g. a signed declaration that the tamper-proof discs were destroyed by you personally.

If no documentary evidence can be provided, you must contact the National Transport Authority and request a TP2 form.

Section 4: Declaration

I declare that the particulars furnished herein are true. I also accept that incomplete or inaccurate information may delay the issue of a licence. I declare that the tamper-proof licence discs previously issued to me have been destroyed securely and cannot be recovered. I fully understand that an authorised officer of the National Transport Authority may contact me regarding this matter or use this information as evidence if my tamper-proofs are used in any illegality in future.
